DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 59 and 60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 59, there is no "first safety means" to provide antecedence for the "second safety means" recited in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 50-53 and 61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by DE 19848370.

There is disclosed in the German reference a coffee machine, comprising: a housing 2; an upper supply part 9 on the housing; a lower supply part 4 movable relative to the upper part between an upper position and a lower position; a container 8, 14 to hold a charge of coffee grounds and fittable with the lower supply part; guide means on the housing and container including a slide 15 and a pivot 12 for displacement of the container between a coffee-making position and a loading/emptying position, the container being separable from the housing, the guide means including a non-straight guide 10 along which the slide is displaceable; and a supply means 20, 33 connected through the upper supply part, the supply means including a valve 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 62 and 63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 19848370 in view of Axelsson et al.

Axelsson discloses that it is known to have a supply means including a valve, the valve having a hollow valve body, a piston slidable therein, and annular outwardly open grooves formed on the piston.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the valve of DE 19848370 with the valve disclosed in Axellson, to provide greater control of the flow of water to the supply means.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 59 and 60 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 54-58 and 64 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Schmed et al. and Tio are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
